

 NATIONAL SCIENCE CENTRE
POLAND

Workshop

European insurance contract law in the age of digitalization

Organisers: Piotr Tereszkievicz & Cristina Poncibò

Kraków and Remotely (hybrid mode)

5-6 May 2022

Introduction

Welcome and Introduction by the Organisers

Phillip Hellwege, Augsburg

“Innovation and Insurance Law from Historical Perspective”

Platform Economy and Insurance

Pierpaolo Marano, Cattolica Milano

“Platform Economy and Distribution of Insurance Products [IDD perspective]”

Teresa Rodríguez de las Heras Ballell, Carlos III Madrid

“Platform Models and Their Status within the Insurance Intermediaries Framework [The Platform Scholarship Perspective]”

Data-Driven Insurance Consumer Contracts

Marta Ostrowska, Zurich

“The Impact of Technology on Information Asymmetry in Insurance. Contractual and Regulatory Considerations”

Przemysław Pałka, UJ Kraków

“Data-driven consumer insurance: philosophical and political perspective”

Automation and Insurance Contracts

Marta Infantino, Trieste

“Automated Personalization in Consumer Contracts: Insurtech and the Law”

Mateja Durovic, KCL London

“Smart contracts and consumer protection with respect to insurance products”

Eliza Mik, CUHK Hong Kong

“The Oracle Problem” - A Sideways Look at Smart Contracts and their Role in InsurTech

Robotics & Insurance Contracts

Adolfo Paolini, University of Buckingham

“Robo-directors and D&O-Insurance Markets: An Assessment”

Krzysztof Waliszewski, UE Poznań

“The profile of robo-advice users in Poland”

AI Risks and Insurance Contracts

Cristina Poncibò, AI Risks and Insurance Contracts: Challenges

The rise of InsurTech: empirical perspectives on consumer’s knowledge and attitudes

Ewa Cichowicz, SGH Warsaw & Piotr Tereskiewicz, UJ Kraków

“How do consumers inform themselves about insurance products? Results of a consumer survey”

Daria Baltag, Monika Leszczyńska, Maastricht

“Like, subscribe and find a fair balance... the digital services’ personalised content and what the consumer really thinks of them”